

Sailability Scotland SCIO Tack-Tick August 2017

✓ The T4 and SOCC took place at Loch Earn SC recently and many thanks to the club for hosting the event and to Tunnocks for sponsoring it. It was the windiest conditions I have seen and truly breath taking and very enjoyable. But don't take my word for it, read the excellent report in Yacht and Yachting by Marion Edwards.

✓ Our next event is the T5 at Bardowie. This is the penultimate event in our traveller series and things are heating up. Here is the SOCC result:

Rank	Boat	SailNo	Helm	R1	R2	R3	R4	Total	Nett

✓ Solway YC are having their Kippford week from 7 August and in case anyone wanted to have a sail on the sea and some practice we have two Challengers for you to use. You should contact Chris Nurney if you are interested.

✓ Are you race prepared? Can you sail at RYA level 2? When was the last time you did an RYA course? Would you like to do a sailing course or maybe just a refresher day to iron out some problems? If so, please get in touch with Dik.

✓ Where do you like to race? Have you a favourite venue? We are starting to look at next year's calendar and would like to hear your opinions on sailing venues. Drop me a line with your nominations for consideration.

✓ We are very fortunate to have support from Tunnocks which pays for your entry fee for the remaining regattas this year, but we still need to raise funds. Please consider making a donation of £10 when you register to race as every penny helps.

✓ Date for your diary: 26 and 27 August T5 Bardowie and 9 and 10 September T6 Lochaber YC
